SPECIAL CATEGORIES DIVISION

SC-1 Special Interest

SC-2 Current Competition

SC-3 Limited Production

The Special Categories division is intended to accommodate cars which, either because of their unique nature or their use, might be placed at a competitive disadvantage if entered in the other divisions. A car is eligible for entry in this division only if it satisfies the criteria for one of the following classes:

1. Special Interest. This class includes cars which have been so extensively modified from the original stock configuration that they may not be able to compete on an even footing with the cars in the class in which they would otherwise be included. Any car made by Porsche which, because of extensive modifications, no longer satisfies the definition of a Porsche given in Section I INTRODUCTION of these Concours competition rules is eligible for this class, and cars in this class may have any type of engine installed, including non- Porsche engines. Cosmetic body modifications, installation of roll cages, routine engine modifications such as substitutions between carburetors and fuel injection systems, displacement increases and other internal engine modifications shall not, by themselves, qualify a car for this class.
2. Current Competition. This class includes cars that have, within the last 12 months, been driven actively in track competition such as time trials, DEs or club racing events. Acceptable competition is not restricted to PCA events and may include events sanctioned by other organizations such as but not limited to the International Motor Sports Association or the Sports Car Club of America. Autocross is not considered to be track competition. The entrant must be able to provide documentation of entry into such competitive events within the last year upon request.
3. Limited Production. This class includes Porsches made in limited quantities that differ substantially from normal production cars. Examples include the 550 in its various guises along with its descendants, any of the 900 series of competition cars such as the 904, 906, 917 and 934, other racing cars such as Formula and Indy cars, as well as cars such as the 959 and Carrera GT. In general, cars based on production street vehicles are not eligible for this class, so that special editions of production 911s such as anniversary editions and the 997 Club Coupe and special versions of production cars such as the 1952 America Roadster, the 911R, the 1973 Carrera RS and the RS America must be entered in the classes containing other similar production cars.

Any person entering a car in one of these classes must be prepared to explain in detail how the car satisfies the requirements of the class. In the event of any question over whether a particular car qualifies for one of these classes, the Zone 8 Concours Chairperson will make the final determination about its eligibility. An entrant may voluntarily move their vehicle to another division if that division has a class that can reasonably accommodate their model of vehicle. For example, a 959 could reasonably be considered a limited Production 911 and therefore compete in Full Concours as a 911.

However, on the other extreme, there is no class in any other division that could accommodate a 917, so no movement is possible for such a vehicle. In making such a move, when possible, the entrant acknowledges that they may be at a competitive disadvantage. The car may not be switched back to SC Division after judging begins.

G. There shall be no combining of classes.

H. Each entrant is responsible for correctly classifying his/her own car. Any car not classified by the start of judging will be disqualified from that event. All cars are subject to further scrutiny and reclassification at the discretion of the Zone 8 Rules Committee or the Event Chairperson at any time during an event. If a car is found to be misclassified after judging begins the event may be scored as if the car did not compete.
